Your NetID password protects personal information at the University including your paycheck and banking information, plus your students’ grades and their personal information.

Make sure your NetID password is long and strong, and don’t share it with anyone including coworkers, TAs, family, friends, or colleagues. Research data may also be subject to specific laws that require extra vigilance in protecting your password.

Learn more at it.northwestern.edu/security/overview.html