A constant stream of sensitive information crosses your desk every day, but you can protect it all with a long, strong NetID password or passphrase.

Make sure your NetID password is long and strong, and don’t share it with anyone, including coworkers, managers, family, or friends.

Learn more at it.northwestern.edu/security/overview.html